Suggest the following to fill out the statement on nuclear proliferation per your request:

A nuclear terrorist incident, even one that technically might be of minor importance, would have immediate and far-reaching impact on US nuclear policies and US security interests. A nuclear terrorist attack occurring in Western Europe, especially in a NATO country, would add impetus and public support to the efforts of increasingly popular "peace movements" to press for the removal of all US nuclear weapons from the soil of the nation affected, and possibly all of Western Europe.
